GUEST EDITION

Designed differently. Achieve more.

F For the third consecutive time, WELT AM SONNTAG opens the stage for a defining personality of the international cultural scene.

Interviews, essays and visual worlds curated by Anton Corbijn interweave to create a cross-media highlight edition that reaches a large audience and clearly differs from a classic Sunday newspaper.

David Bowie, U2, Herbert Grönemeyer and Courtney Love – Anton Corbijn has portrayed them and many other figures of international cultural history.

- ❖ Highest-circulation WELT AM SONNTAG of the year with 800,000 copies
- ❖ 4.1 million cross-media contacts* through the accompanying staging on WELT Digital
- ❖ An edition designed by Anton Corbijn with its own photographic signature and collector's value

ANTON CORBIJN

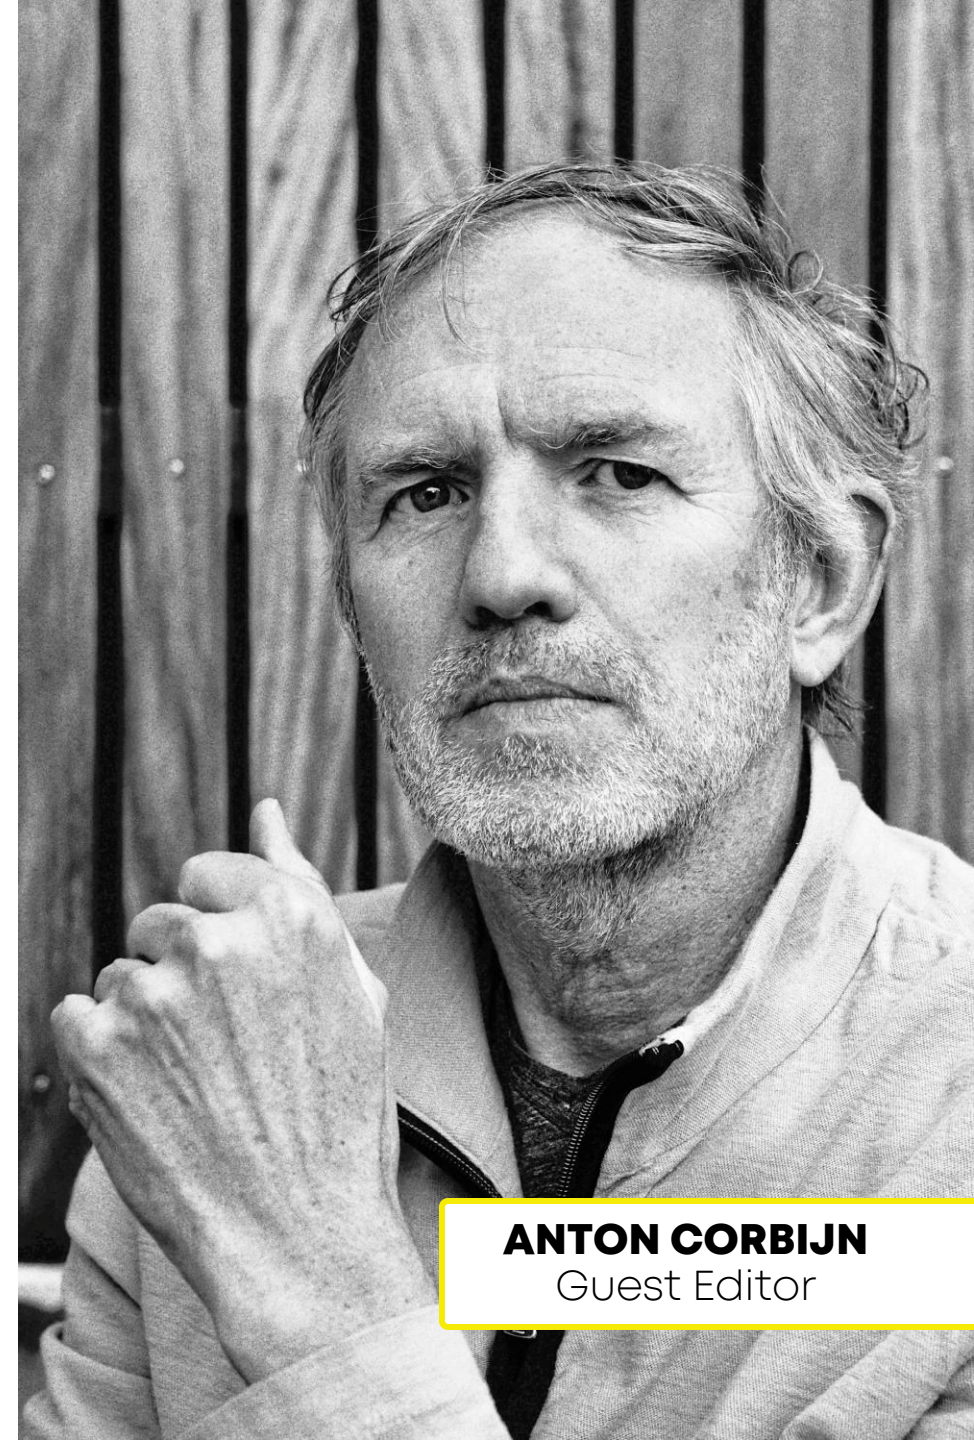

On the WELT stage

It is a great honour for me to design the upcoming WELT AM SONNTAG Guest Edition and thereby follow in the footsteps of Andreas Gursky as well as Donata and Wim Wenders, who realised this task so wonderfully in past years.

What appeals to me most is the opportunity to use the entire newspaper as an exhibition space for my photography. Now I will dive into my archive and search for well-known, lesser-known and some as yet unpublished photographs – in the hope of making the winter a little warmer with them."

DISTRIBUTION

More circulation. Precisely targeted.

W With its tripled circulation, WELT AM SONNTAG of the Year offers an exceptional stage for strong brands.

The additional distribution at premium locations and, for the first time, to WELT PLUS subscribers ensures maximum reach among particularly discerning, loyal and high-income target groups.

This combination creates a unique advertising environment that exists only once a year.

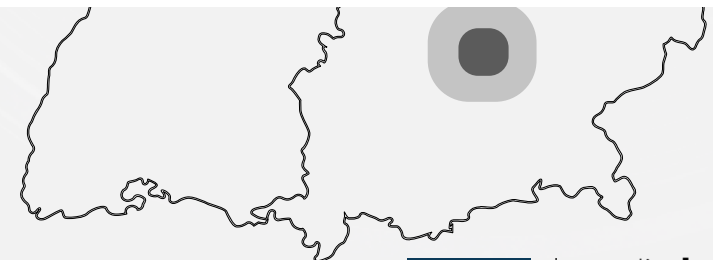

The additional print run is distributed daily to selected postal-code areas with a high income structure in Germany's metropolitan regions.
